ABOUT KUALOA

Located in the northeast of Oahu, Kualoa Ranch(4,000 acres) is a privately owned nature reserve and listed on the Register of Historic Places. The descendants of Gerrit P. Judd, who inherited the land from King Kamehameha III in 1850, have managed the land and are working to protect it through a variety of activities, including nature conservation, agriculture, fisheries, and tours.

In addition to a variety of activities, Kualoa is a comprehensive activity facility where you can learn about the nature and history of Hawaii, it is widely used by various groups from Japan and overseas, such as Corporate Training, Incentive Trips, School Trips, and Educational Trips. It is possible to plan and implement events and outdoor activities that make use of the vast site.

MALAMA/SDG's Sustainability

MALAMA is the Hawaiian word for "sustainability". Land and water are important concepts to Native Hawaiian society. Rain pours in from the tops of the mountains over decades, moistening the taro fields of Kualoa. The Malama Experience allows you to experience the planting and harvesting of taro in a paddy field while learning about the sustainable living and knowledge of Hawaiian foods and the culture of Native Hawaiians.

Activities include planting, harvesting, and cleaning of Kalo (taro), a traditional Hawaiian staple food. Hands and feet can be washed in the sea or river, as they may get dirty in the fields. You can experience Traditional and Modern Hawaiian culture through our Hawaiian agriculture experience.

Private UTV and Koa Planting

This private 3-hour UTV ride-along tour will take you through the land stewardship divisions of the ranch property where you can get up close and intimate with our Native Hawaiian plant restoration sites. Not only will you see many of the famous movie site spots, but you'll also get a narrated tour, riding along with your guide. Besides seeing the amazing Hakipu'u and Ka'a'awa "Jurassic" Valley, you'll contribute to revitalizing our Hawaiian forests by planting a vital native tree; the native Koa.

You'll ride along with your own guide ...and just your party of four, in one of our open-air UTV Raptor vehicles. (Larger party sizes may be able to be accommodated later in the day). During the 3 hours, you'll learn a lot about Kualoa's stewardship efforts in restoring native plants throughout our 4000 acre private nature reserve. In addition, you'll be able to take pictures and see many of the most famous movie site areas ... from some of the 200+ Hollywood movies and TV shows filmed here since Elvis in the 1950's! At the end of your tour, you'll be able to plant and help reforest the beautiful, native koa.
